4 Tax File Number

The collection of tax file numbers is authorised by tax laws, the Retirement Savings Account Act 1997 and the Privacy Act 1988. The law requires the Hunter United Employees' Credit Union (the Credit Union) to ask for your tax file number. Completing and returning this form enables the Credit Union to use your tax file number for the purposes contained in the Retirement Savings Account Act 1997 and for the purposes of paying superannuation benefits.

The purposes that are currently authorised include:

- Taxing superannuation benefits at concessional rates;
- Locating amounts in the Credit Union's records where insufficient information is available;
- Passing your tax file number to the Australian Taxation Office but not to any other person or body where you receive a benefit or have unclaimed superannuation money after reaching aged pension; and
- Allowing the Credit Union to provide your tax file number to another RSA provider or trustee of a superannuation fund receiving any benefits you may transfer.

The Credit Union will not provide your tax file number in those circumstances if you tell your superannuation fund provider in writing that you don't want them to pass it on.

You are not required to provide your tax file number. Declining to quote your tax file number is not an offence.

However giving your tax file number to the Hunter United Super Fund will have the following advantages (which may not otherwise apply):

- The Fund will be able to accept all types of contributions to your account;
- The tax on contributions to your account will not increase;
- Other than the tax that may ordinarily apply, no additional tax will be deducted when you start drawing down your superannuation benefits; and
- It will make it much easier to trace different superannuation accounts in your name so that you receive all your superannuation benefits when you retire.

I agree to provide my tax file number? Yes No

Important Information about binding death nominations, reversionary beneficiaries and non-binding nominations

Certified Documentation

In December 2008, changes were made to legislation to allow death benefits to be paid to a broader class of dependants including same-sex spouses and children of those relationships. These changes are reflected below.

What is a binding death nomination?

You can complete a binding death nomination to require that we pay your death benefit to the dependants you nominate or to your legal personal representative. If you complete and we receive your valid binding death nomination prior to your death, we are required to follow your nomination. This can provide you with greater certainty on who will receive your super benefit when you die.

It is important to be aware before completing a binding death nomination that:

- Your binding death nomination must be renewed every three years to remain valid. We will generally contact you before your nomination expires; however, you should always ensure your nomination is current and valid.
- Your binding death nomination is binding on Hunter United and, if valid, cannot be overruled by Hunter United. Accordingly, you should ensure it is always up-to-date and reflects your wishes given your current personal circumstances. In particular, it is important to review that your nomination is still appropriate and reflects your wishes if you get married, separate or get divorced, enter a de facto relationship (including same-sex), have a child, if someone you nominate has died, or someone becomes or is no longer financially dependent upon you or in an interdependency relationship with you.
- If you nominate your legal personal representative, your death benefit will be paid to your estate and distributed in accordance with your will or the laws of intestacy. This means that the distribution may be challenged if someone disputes your will or the distribution of your estate. If you nominate your dependants, your death benefit will be paid directly to them.
- Tax may be withheld from your death benefit when paid to your dependants or distributed from your estate. There are differing tax treatments of death benefits depending on how old you are, how old your nominated beneficiaries are and who you nominate and whether it is paid as a pension or lump sum.

To make a valid binding death nomination:

- You must be at least 18 years of age
- You must complete, in writing, the binding death nomination form available in the most up-to-date PDS or on our website or by calling us

- By law, your nomination will only be valid if you nominate a person(s) that at the time of your death is your dependant or your legal personal representative. Refer below for more information.
- You must complete the full name and date of birth of each person nominated to ensure we can identify them in the event of your death
- You must ensure that the proportion payable to each person nominated is stated and you have allocated 100% of your death benefit
- Your nomination must not be ambiguous in any other way
- You must sign the binding death nomination form in the presence of two witnesses who are both at least 18 years of age and are not nominated on the form; and
- You must send and we must receive your validly completed nomination prior to your death.

You may amend, renew or revoke your nomination at any time by completing a new binding death nomination form in writing, available on our website or by calling us.

Non-binding nominations

When you place your funds in the Hunter United Super Fund you are able to make a non-binding nomination on the application form to tell us who you would like to receive your death benefit when you die. You may only nominate your dependants or your legal personal representative.

Please be aware that although we will take this nomination into consideration, we are not obliged to follow it. Generally, if you have more than one dependant, we will pay your death benefit to your legal personal representative instead.

If you would like to consider a more binding form of nomination, please consider a binding death nomination. The subsequent nomination of a valid binding death nomination will supersede any previous non-binding nomination you have made.

Who can you nominate?

A valid binding death nomination can only nominate your legal personal representative or your dependants. Your legal personal representative is the person appointed on your death as the executor or administrator of your estate. Your dependants are:

- Your current spouse, this includes the person at your death to whom you are married or with whom you are in a de facto relationship, whether of the same sex or a different sex, or in a relationship that is registered under a law of a State or Territory.

- Your child, this includes any person who at your death is your natural, step, adopted, ex-nuptial or current spouse's child, including a child who was born through artificial conception procedures or under surrogacy arrangements with your current or then spouse.
- Any person financially dependent on you, this includes any person who at your death is wholly or partially financially dependent on you. Generally, this is the case if the person receives financial assistance or maintenance from you on a regular basis that the person relies or is dependent on to maintain their standard of living at the time of your death.
- Any person with whom you have an interdependence relationship, this includes any person who at your death:
 - you have a close personal relationship with
 - you live together
 - you or this person provides the other with financial support, and
 - you or this person provides the other with domestic support and personal care

The relationship is not required to meet the last three conditions, if the reason these requirements cannot be met is because you or the other person is suffering from a disability.

In establishing whether such a relationship exists, all of the circumstances of the relationship are taken into account, including (where relevant):

- The duration of the relationship
- Whether or not a sexual relationship exists
- The ownership, use and acquisition of property
- The degree of mutual commitment to a shared life
- The care and support of children
- The reputation and public aspects of the relationship (such as whether the relationship is publicly acknowledged)
- The degree of emotional support
- The extent to which the relationship is one of mere convenience, and
- Any evidence suggesting that the parties intended the relationship to be permanent.

If you are considering relying on this category or dependency to nominate a person, you should consider completing a statutory declaration addressing these points as evidence of whether such a relationship exists. You should talk to your financial adviser for more information

Paying your death benefit

At the time of your death, we will contact the people you have nominated in your binding death nomination or non-binding nomination to ensure that they are still either a dependant or your legal personal representative. We are also generally required to establish the identity of this person before paying out your death benefit.

If you have nominated one or more of your dependants, they will be provided the choice of taking their proportion of the death benefit as a lump sum cash payment or a pension from Hunter United Super Fund. Please note however, that from July 1 2007 if you have nominated a child, the death benefit must be paid to them as a lump sum cash payment unless the child:

- Is under age 18
- Is under age 25 and is financially dependent on you, or
- Has a certain type of disability

If your child's personal circumstances change so that they no longer meet one of these exceptions, we will pay the remaining account balance to them as a lump sum cash payment.

A PDS describing the features of a pension from Hunter United Super Fund is available on our website or by calling us.

No valid binding death nomination

Your death benefit will be paid to your legal personal representative if:

- At the time of your death, you have not completed or we have not received a valid binding death nomination or reversionary beneficiary nomination
- You have revoked your last binding death nomination or it has lapsed
- The people you have nominated on your binding death nomination cannot be identified or are not at the time of your death your dependant or legal personal representative, or
- Hunter United determines that your binding death nomination is otherwise invalid.

This is general information only and does not take into account your personal circumstances. Please talk to your financial adviser for more information on binding death nominations and your personal estate planning needs.
